Cast for Spring Play "Hedda Gabler" Chosen

"Hedda Gabler" by Henrik Ibsen has been chosen as the annual spring all-college play. The play, under the direction of Dr. Lynch, will be presented April 24 and 25 in Somsen Hall auditorium.

The cast for the play consists of: Berta, Lois Edgren; Miss Tessman, Elizabeth Tolleson; George Tessman, Roger MacDonald; Hedda Gabler Tessman, Kathryn Eggers; Judge Brack, Albert Posz; Eilert Lovborg, Dick Nelson; and Mrs. Elvsted, Marjorie Morcomb.

Ibsen, born in Norway, is considered by most critics to be the most influential figure of modern drama. His plays are popular for their fascinating psychological study. "Peer Gynt," a poetic fantasy, which is considered Ibsen's most important contribution to literature was given the spring of 1940.

Trapp Family Singers Will Give Community Concert March 23

Trapp Family and Director

Tyrolean Groupe Is Last Number of 41-42 Series

The Trapp Family Singers will appear here March 23 for the last concert in the series presented by the Community Concert Association for 1941-42. The Trapp Family, consisting of the Baroness von Trapp and her five daughters and two sons, are directed by the young composer-clergyman, Dr. Franz Wasner.

Their Tyrolean Castle in Austria was the home of their first musical endeavor. There they would sing and perform musical acts for their own pleasure. Their first public appearance was in a folk-song competition in which 40 choral organizations participated. After that they sang at a festival in Belvedere Palace in Vienna at the invitation of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg. Since then they have made many concert tours in England, France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Italy, and Holland. They are beginning their third concert season in the United States.

"Although the name of Austria is dead, we try to keep alive its culture and its art by presenting our songs to the world," the Baroness Trapp stated when asked about her gifted family. The mountain calls and yodels of the Austrian Alps which close the

High School Play Contest Will Be Held Here March 27

Among the activities of the Wenonah Players in the spring is the presenting of the one-act play contest on March 27 for the neighboring high schools.

Would be Helen Hayeses and John Barrymores will emote in the auditorium while the members of the club will assume the roles of veteran dramatic critics. They will discuss good and bad points of the various groups' productions with the participants.

Invitations have been sent to a great number of high schools in neighboring towns, and a number of participants are expected.

This festival will be of interest to all other students of this college. There will be everything in dramatic entertainment from mystery, laughs, and chills to love, tears, and thrills.

LIERS WILL SPEAK ON FAMOUS OTTERS

"Liers, the Otter Man" will speak about his famous otters, March 25. A few weeks ago these otters were pictured and described in the Saturday Evening Post.

Dr. Jose Acuna of Costa Rica, now a member of the Winona State Teachers College Faculty, spoke on Central America at the regular assembly period Friday, March 20.

The Rochester String Quartet will give a concert here April 8.

Education Conventions Attended by Dr. Mehus

"Win the war and win the peace" were the two things which were stressed at the meetings of the American Association of Teachers Colleges and the American Association of School Administrators whose meetings were held at San Francisco. Dr. Mehus attended the two meetings, and at the former he served as a member of the nominating committee.

"Gus" Schammel Retires from Post; E. H. Brown to Be New Head Janitor

August "Gus" Schammel and E. H. Brown

August Schammel, who has served on the janitorial staff at the Teachers College since 1922, was honored at the assembly program Friday, March 13, in observance of his retirement. Dr. Minné, chairman of the committee on buildings and grounds, spoke in recognition and appreciation of Mr. Schammel's twenty years of service at the college and presented him with a check from the faculty and students.

For the past fifteen years Mr.

Schammel has been employed as Engineer and Head Janitor, a position in which he will be succeeded by E. H. Brown.

When questioned about his future plans, Mr. Schammel—better known in the halls as "Gus"—said that he hopes to take a trip south and west this summer. "I'd like to spend next winter in Florida," he told the press. Then he added, "But for a working janitor there's no better place than Winona State Teachers College."

How would you like a career in journalism? How would you like to see the Seven Seas and be on hand for all the big news events? The WINONAN will help you prepare for such a vocation. program are the voice of a strong, proud tradition—songs that have never been written down.

This concert offers variety and interest for every listener. The program consists of early chorals, madrigals and songs by classic and romantic composers sung in Latin, Italian, German, and English. Their repertoire is taken from the 16th and 18th century masters—Palestrina, Monteverdi, Morley, and early Mozart. They sing folk songs in several languages, including English. Particularly beautiful are the Carinthian folk songs which belong to the Trapps by inheritance and association.

The Trapp Family has revived the playing of block flutes or recorders which are woodwinds of the 15th century. Accompanied by the spinet and viola de gamba they play early works originally written for these instruments.

Language Study Booms

This changing world, with men and nations drawing closer together, is going to make linguists of us all. Most of us still have the traditional American attitude that languages are simply too hard work to bother with — that if foreigners want to talk to us, they can learn our language. With new international problems come new language needs; it is up to educators to satisfy these needs, and they are doing just that.

Spanish and Portuguese are now taking the place of the once popular French and German. A survey of sixty-eight schools shows that Spanish courses have doubled since September and the previously untaught Portuguese is now being offered in forty-eight schools.

Since the beginning of the war Russian, Arabic, and Siamese, courses have been instituted in several universities. Since our entrance into the conflict Japanese has had a 1000 percent increase.

But these items should not be thought of merely as an interesting collection of facts unrelated to our lives. We too can foresee future needs and make use of the opportunities now offered us. Why not enroll in one of the free Spanish classes offered two evenings weekly at the Winona Senior High School? Why let the language boon pass us by?

ANY STAMP TODAY?

Students and faculty proved to themselves how much they were helping the United States on Friday the thirteenth of March. When at assembly the students were asked to raise their hands if they had bought a defense stamp, the number of waving hands proved that the college was shirking its duty to its country.

What's the matter with W.S. T.C.? Are the students so poor they can't find a loose quarter once a week? Everyone should be sacrificing either with money or by offering his services. Students of other Minnesota colleges, are buying stamps regularly. Many schools have a weekly round-up of students in which they all buy at least one stamp. Others require the purchase of a defense stamp in lieu of a ticket for dances and school activities.

Here we sit — attending classes in a desultory fashion, overhauling the policies of our government, and seeking out every minor defect in our war policy. Could anyone here do better than what is being done?

The best course for us is to buy stamps and bonds so that the next time we are asked, "Did you buy a stamp yet?" we can answer truthfully, "Yes."

"Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death!"

MR. BALCER SPEAKS:
(With due apologies to P. Henry)

Mr. President: It is natural for Little Abners to indulge in the illusions of hope. We are apt to shut our eyes against a painful truth, and listen to the song of those siren Daisy Maes till they transform us into beasts. Is this the part of wise men, engaged in a great and arduous struggle for liberty — this Daisy Mae Week? Are we disposed to be of the number of those who, having eyes, see not, and having ears, hear not, the things which so nearly concern their earthly bachelor salvation. For my part whatever anguish of spirit it may cost, I am willing to know the whole truth; to know the worst, and to provide for it.

I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of experience. I know of no way of judging the future but by the past. And, judging by the past, I wish to know what there has been in the conduct of the T. C. Daisy Maes for the last two years to justify those hopes with which the gentlemen have been pleased to solace themselves? Suffer not yourselves to be betrayed with a kiss. That has been the undoing of many a hapless Little Abner.

I ask the gentlemen, sir, what means this forewarned and pre-arranged attack on our bachelorhood, if its purpose be not to force us to submission? Can the gentlemen assign any other possible motive for it than an ultimate weakening of the male of the species?

Shall we resort to entreaty and humble supplications? What terms shall we find which have not been already exhausted by the males of the last two years? Let us not, I beseech you, deceive ourselves longer. Sir, we have done everything that could be done, to avert the storm which is now coming on. We have petitioned, we have remonstrated, we have supplicated; we have almost prostrated ourselves before the Daisy Maes' thrones. Our petitions have been slighted, our remonstrances have produced additional violence and insult, our supplications have been disregarded, and we have been spurned with contempt from the foot of their thrones. In vain, after these things, may we indulge the fond hope of peace and ripe old bachelorhood.

If we wish to be free; if we mean to preserve this inestimable privilege for which we have been so long contending; if we mean not basely to abandon the noble struggle in which we have been so long engaged, ever since we entered the portals of T. C., and which we have pledged ourselves never to abandon until the glorious object of our contest shall be obtained — graduation unattached — we must fight! I repeat it, sir, we must fight! An appeal to arms, and to the God of hosts, is all that is left us.

They tell us, sir, that we are weak — unable to cope with so formidable an adversary as the T. C. female, that we are outnumbered four to one. But when shall we be stronger? Will it be the next year or the next year? Will it be when we are totally disarmed, and when a marriage certificate is hanging on our walls? Sir, we are not weak, if we make a proper use of those means which the God of nature hath placed in our power. One hundred thirty-five strong, armed in the holy cause of Liberty and Singleness, and in such an institution as that in which we are enrolled, are invincible to any force which our enemy can send against us, be it lipstick, powder, knee-length socks, or short skirts.

Besides, sir, we shall not fight our battles alone. There is a just God, who presides over the destinies of single males, and who will raise up friends from St. Mary's to fight our battles with us. There is no retreat but in submission and slavery. Our marriage licenses are being written this very moment. The scratchings of the Winona County Clerk's pen may be heard in the corridors of Somsen Hall. The clash of Daisy Mae is inevitable — and let it come! I repeat it, sir, let it come!

Some gentlemen may cry, peace, peace! but there is no

Cinema Comments — P. Lang

For you movie-goers (and who isn't?) — here are some of the "hits" to be shown in the near future at the State Theatre.

Johnny Eager, a powerful drama of a ruthless killer who knows no code except the rule of self-preservation, stars Lana Turner and Robert Taylor in their first appearance together. Highly enjoyable are the classical references made throughout by Van Heflin. Coming March 22, 23, and 24.

A man's fraud and a woman's fears comprise the plot basis of Suspicion, starring Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine. Mystery and romance unfold in a startling new manner. Miss Fontaine's role in the film has rated the Academy Award. To be here March 27, 28.

The Man Who Came to Dinner, starring Bette Davis, Ann Sheridan, and Monty Woolley, is a fast moving screen story that is loaded with chuckles. You'll learn the last word in what the perfect dinner guest should never do. See it March 29, 30, and 31.

Watch for these too:

Woman of the Year, starring Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn.

Student Shoppers by Debbie

Everyone right now is thinking of a new wardrobe for Easter. With that thought in mind, Stevenson's have a store full of everything that is new to fit your every need. You'll find the latest, the brightest, and the smartest in spring toggery to suit your own particular taste.

Shoes—yes, your shoes can spoil your most lavish Easter costume, but not if you make your selections at Stevenson's Shoe Department. They have all the glamorous new styles and colors that will turn all eyes to your feet. And listen to this: prices are only $3.99 to $5.95.

Accessories, too, must be carefully chosen. For the last word in gloves and matching bags, see those at Choate's. Their Shalimar fabric gloves come in every conceivable color, yet sell for only $1.00. The newest shade, Victory Red, will put the finishing touch to any outfit.

Flowers are a tradition at Easter time, and for the finest we naturally go to Siebrecht's. For the home they have plants of hydrangeas, tulips, lilies, cinerarias, azaleas, and gardenias, and also a wide choice of cut flowers. To brighten your outfit they will style a special corsage as only they can.

Black-outs are no longer new to us but Black-out Flowers at Choate's are. Believe it or not, these flowers glow in the dark. They are really artificial, but the naturalness of their colors and the warmth and softness of their glow, make them look real. They sell for only $.59 and $1.00.

Young "Paroled" by Jap Regime

Jimmy Young—author of "Behind the Rising Son," salesman, and journalist—spoke to the assembly on Monday, March 16, on "Thirteen Years in Japan."

Mr. Young, director of the I.N.S. in Japan, is on a lecture tour of this country while on parole from a Japanese prison. "They waited till I printed the article they didn't like and then put me in the jug. Someone must have had it in for me." This "misconduct" resulted in a prison term in an unheated cell for sixty days. During this time he was "warmed" by a seal-skin overcoat belonging to Ambassador Grew, for the jail "was heated only by my loud denunciations of the Japanese prisons and government officials."

"I finally was released on the condition that I would confine myself to only favorable comments on the Japanese. This parole was to last for two years and then I was to return. However since Japan has broken her agreements with this country, I shall return the compliment and break my parole."

Mr. Young blames his imprisonment on the military regime, which rules the nation. "Most of the people are much opposed to the government, but their minds are so regimented that they haven't the ability to take matters into their own hands and oust the rulers."

For most of the time he was in Japan, Mr. Young was editor of the American paper, "The Japan Advertiser." "In the papers we advertized everything from spinach to portable phonographs. Popeye, vitamin pills, sewing machines, and toothpaste—all American products—are common articles in the Japanese home."

"I was in Japan most of the time, but a hurried trip through war-torn China convinced me that as a people the Chinese are superior in many ways. They still are individuals despite the nefarious practices and atrocities of the Japanese army which is trying to turn them into people willing to cooperate with Japan."

After addressing the students here, Mr. Young hurried to Duluth for another lecture.

STUDENTS SPONER SALE OF DEFENSE STAMPS

Do you want to buy a defense stamp? Just go down to the box-office at chapel time on Tuesday and Thursday every week. There the committee in charge of the sale of stamps will have all you can buy.

Every issue of the WINONAN will contain a report of the committee on the sale of the stamps. By doing this it is hoped that the sale of the "tickets to freedom" will be increased.

Members of the committee are: Dick Ashley, Ruth Kjos, Lorraine Spitzack, Charles Reps, and Bruce Montgomery. All bonds and stamps that have been bought by the faculty will be credited to the sales made at the college.

Concerning the purchase of the stamps, one student was heard to say:

Signs of Warmth Start Spring Sport Program

Now that spring is on its way, the spring sports teams of W.S.T.C. will be getting into shape. The out-look for the coming season isn't too bright, because of the lack of returning lettermen to the respective squads.

The baseball team under the able leadership of co-captains Eldon Brandt and Bob Eastin, will have to depend mostly upon newcomers to fill out their gaping ranks. Bob Eastin, Eldon Brandt, Don McConochie, Don Balcom, and Ronald Johnson are the only returning lettermen from last season.

Dr. Raymond, the new tennis coach, will have to depend mostly upon his "fiery" team captain, Bill Raymond to pull the squad through the coming matches. Bill is the only returning letterman, but will receive help from last year's team members: Warren Murback and Charles Balcer.

The captainless track team lost many stars from last year's squad; including their captain, John Carlson. John is no longer in school, because of the present world situation. Returning lettermen are: Douglas DeLano, winner of the conference discus championship; Joe Clawson, middle distance man; Bob Eastin, all around handy man; Charles "Fat" Duncanson, high hurdle specialist; Charles Sulack, middle distance speedster; Bob Novotony, who hopes to do well in the shot and discus events; Bruce Montgomery, sprint and broad jump man.

DURING TIME OUTS

BY BILL RAYMOND

Spring sports will share the attention of T. C.'s athletes during the remainder of the year. Track, baseball, tennis and, maybe, golf offer a wide variety to all willing participants.

We have a new coach in school. Dr. M. R. Raymond succeeding Dr. Biesanz has been named master of the tennis squad. Only one letterman returns, but the genial biologist has faced the problem before. He coached a conference championship squad in 1937, and produced crack teams for several years before he was relieved of those duties.

Sure was swell to see Don McConochie walking around again after an absence of two quarters. Don could have been used to great advantage on the football team last fall.

Minnesota basketball finally produced. Hamline's great string of victories in the National Collegiate tourney at Kansas City ended with the national title. The Pipers deserve all the credit in the world as does their great coach, Joe Hutton.

This "springish" weather should prompt one to bring out the equipment for the racing season. Mr. Jederman warns you not to get trapped by that March snow storm.

Champs Named In Intramurals

"It's the Yankees Again!" This familiar cry rang through T. C.'s halls as the Intramural volleyball season ended the Yanks out in front by a wide margin. Beaten only once, 15-8 by the second place Braves, the Traxlerites blasted all opposition to enter the post season play off of the four top teams as heavy favorites. In the first two games the Yanks rolled relentlessly over Marx's third place Red Sox 45-21 while the Hanson Braves crushed the fourth place Dodgers, captained by Sulack, to the tune of 45-25.

At the Kegler's Klub Thursday three T. C. bowling teams collected the first St. Mary's scalp this season by winning two out of three team matches. Frank Cichanowski of St. Marys rolled the best single game of 206 while Jack Clay with 193, Ronnie Johnson with 192 and Don McConochie with 190 followed. McConochie boasted the best 3 game total with 561 pins to his credit or an average of 187 per game.

The All Star team, picked from the ranks of the intramural boys, is as follows: Seeling, Traxler, Duncanson, Carpenter, Brandt, Clawson, Sulack, Hansen, DeLano, Ashley, Hangerford, Montgomery, Bartell, Marx, Novotney, Simon, and Fritz. These boys will be divided into two teams by the Intramural board, and will engage in several contests with similar groups from St. Mary's.

The new W.S.T.C. ping-pong champ is Lloyd Lubitz of West Concord. Lubitz ground out a victory over his able runner-up, Jim Zimdars of Winona after Zimdars took an early lead and snatched the first game 21-19. Lubitz, after this first set-back of the tournament, quickly turned on the heat to take the second game 21-12. The lead changed hands several times during the rubber until Lubitz finally forced Zimdars to net the ball three times in a row to complete his championship string 21-18.

Peds Close '42 Basketball Season

The Fiskmen on the last road trip of the season dropped two games, one to St. Cloud, 58-48 and one to Moorhead 64-41.

The fast breaking St. Cloudites, runners up for the Northern Teachers crown, led 12-10 at the end of the first quarter, and then built up a 33-24 half time lead. Pulling away in a fast 3rd quarter the Huskies commanded a 47-33 advantage going into the last canto. The Warriors came to life to outscore St. Cloud 15-11 but the lead was too great to overcome.

Duncanson led the Winonans with 21, followed by Kannel with 8, and Eastin with 7. St. Cloud scoring was well divided with Conley bagging 14, Filippi 13, Wilcox 11, and Seaton 10.

The bus-tired Winonans fell before Moorhead's rangy 3rd place aggregation 64-41 in a fire wagon exhibition of basket shooting. The Dragons held a slight 14-12 first quarter lead but boomed to a 31-19 half time margin. Keeping up the phenomenal firing the Moorhead crew piled up a 45-28 third quarter score. The frantic last quarter found the Dragons pulling farther away to a 64-41 victory. Duncanson and Foss led the scoring for Winona with 12 points apiece while Deike with 18, Nelson with 15, and McQuire with 11, paced the Moorhead men.

The season's finale with Mankato turned out to be somewhat of a two man show, Duncanson of Winona and Knoll for Mankato. Duncanson starting slowly scored only 5 points the first half while Knoll, hitting the basket from any angle, piled up 10 in the first quarter and 6 in the second. Knoll garnered 10 more points the second half to take scoring honors with 26 while "Dunc" piled up 15 counters for 20.

Winona salvaged a few honors for the season. The scoring champion, Duncanson with 153 in 10

Winona Basketeers Bid Farewell to Sparkplugs

CHARLES DUNCANSON came to T. C. from Byron, pronounced "Barn." He was just a big, awkward kid with uncontrollable feet when first he reported for basketball. It took two years before "Dunc" blossomed forth into the quick, agile, basket-scoring demon that he is now.

"Dunc" doesn't give all his time to basketball. He more than filled a tackle post on Coach Jackson's football eleven. Dr. Galligan will lose a A-1 hurdler come June when the handsome blond receives his sheepskin. Big "Jean" is "personality plus," and he is admired and liked by all who know him.

EASTIN, FOSS and DUNC

BOB EASTIN is Truman's gift to the Warriors. Bob has won more letters and participated in more activities than any graduating senior. He has won in the neighborhood of 13 letters during his tenure.

Bob was known as "old reliable" during the grid season as he shifted from the line to the backfield and back again, depending on where he was needed most. He cavorts at the center position on the cage squad, plays outfield on the baseball team, and hurls the javelin for the track team. Bob is co-captain of the diamond squad.

Bob holds the highest student office in school; that of president of the student association.

No one really knows ROMAINE FOSS'S home town, but he came here from Wabasha High School where he had an enviable record. All-conference awards in three sports were just in a day's work for Romaine.

Foss participated in basketball at T. C. He was the backbone of the squad this year as his steady play often went unnoticed. Romaine was usually good for about ten points a game, and his defensive work was outstanding. Foss held down a half back post on this year's football team.

Dramatics require much of Romaine's spare time. He took the male lead in the Die-No-Mo show, and his baritone voice is known far and wide.

These three seniors, who have reached the end of the basketball career, will be long remembered in the minds of Winona's fans. They were outstanding in every department of the game. We bid farewell to the Warrior's "Three Musketeers."
